

Aullwood's natural legacy

Aullwood is a treasure in southwest Ohio. Marie S. Aull presented an unprecedented gift to the National Audubon Society in 1957 — a beautiful wildlife sanctuary and one of the Midwest's first nature centers. Today Aullwood's 200-acre sanctuary includes eight miles of walking trails winding through prairie, woods, wetlands, ponds, farmland and meadows. It is also the home of "The Troll that Hatched an Egg", an exhibition by Thomas Dambo, the world's leading recycle artist.

Aullwood's Marie S. Aull Education Center is filled with dozens of hands-on exhibits in two discovery rooms, countless opportunities to explore rich natural resources in six thematic classrooms, and places for quiet reflection in observation rooms.

A 120-seat auditorium provides space for meetings, conferences, receptions and community events.

At Aullwood's sustainable farm, visitors explore the century-old bank barn which is home to pigs, horses, goats and other livestock. The Charity A. Krueger Farm Discovery Center features interactive exhibits, a farm classroom, a 175-seat auditorium and the country's first Head Start Nature/Farm Preschool that is located on a working farm. Visitors may also explore colorful herb and vegetable gardens, spring house, pond, sugar house and croplands.

volunteer opportunities

Volunteers are essential to Aullwood. We would love to help you find a way to share your time and talent. Some volunteers teach school children, while others help in the office and nature store. Other volunteers assist with farm, maintenance and sanctuary work. Call us, and we'll find a place for you to have fun, learn and develop a family of friends.

Friends of Aullwood

Aullwood is supported by Friends of Aullwood memberships, donations, grants, bequests, program fees, special events, merchandise sales and endowment income. Friends of Aullwood members enjoy free general admission, program and nature store discounts, reciprocal benefits and special programs. Memberships begin at $25. Visit our web site or call us for more information.

you are welcome here!

Aullwood is open 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and Sunday 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. We are closed on Monday and on most holidays. For details, see our calendar at <https://aullwood.audubon.org/events>

general admission

Children 3 and under — FREE
Children 4 to 12 — $8.00
Adults 13 to 64 — $12.00
Seniors (age 65+) and Active Duty Military — $10.00
Members of Friends of Aullwood, National Audubon Society and ANCA with membership card — FREE administrative office and Marie S. Aull Education Center

1000 Aullwood Road Dayton OH 45414-1129
(937) 890-7360

Aullwood Farm

9101 Frederick Pike Dayton OH 45414-1129
(937) 890-7360

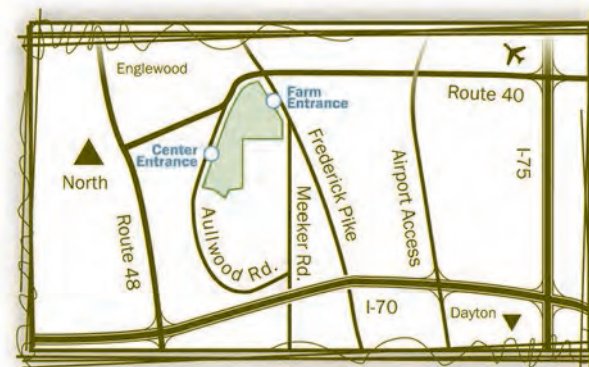

Aullwood online

www.aullwood.org • AskUs@aullwood.org

where to find us

Aullwood is only twelve miles north of downtown Dayton, and three miles west of the Dayton International Airport.

Aullwood Inspires, Teaches and Involves!

*"Aullwood is a legend among nature centers."
—Thane Maynard, CEO Cincinnati Zoo*

Aullwood Audubon

Audubon...

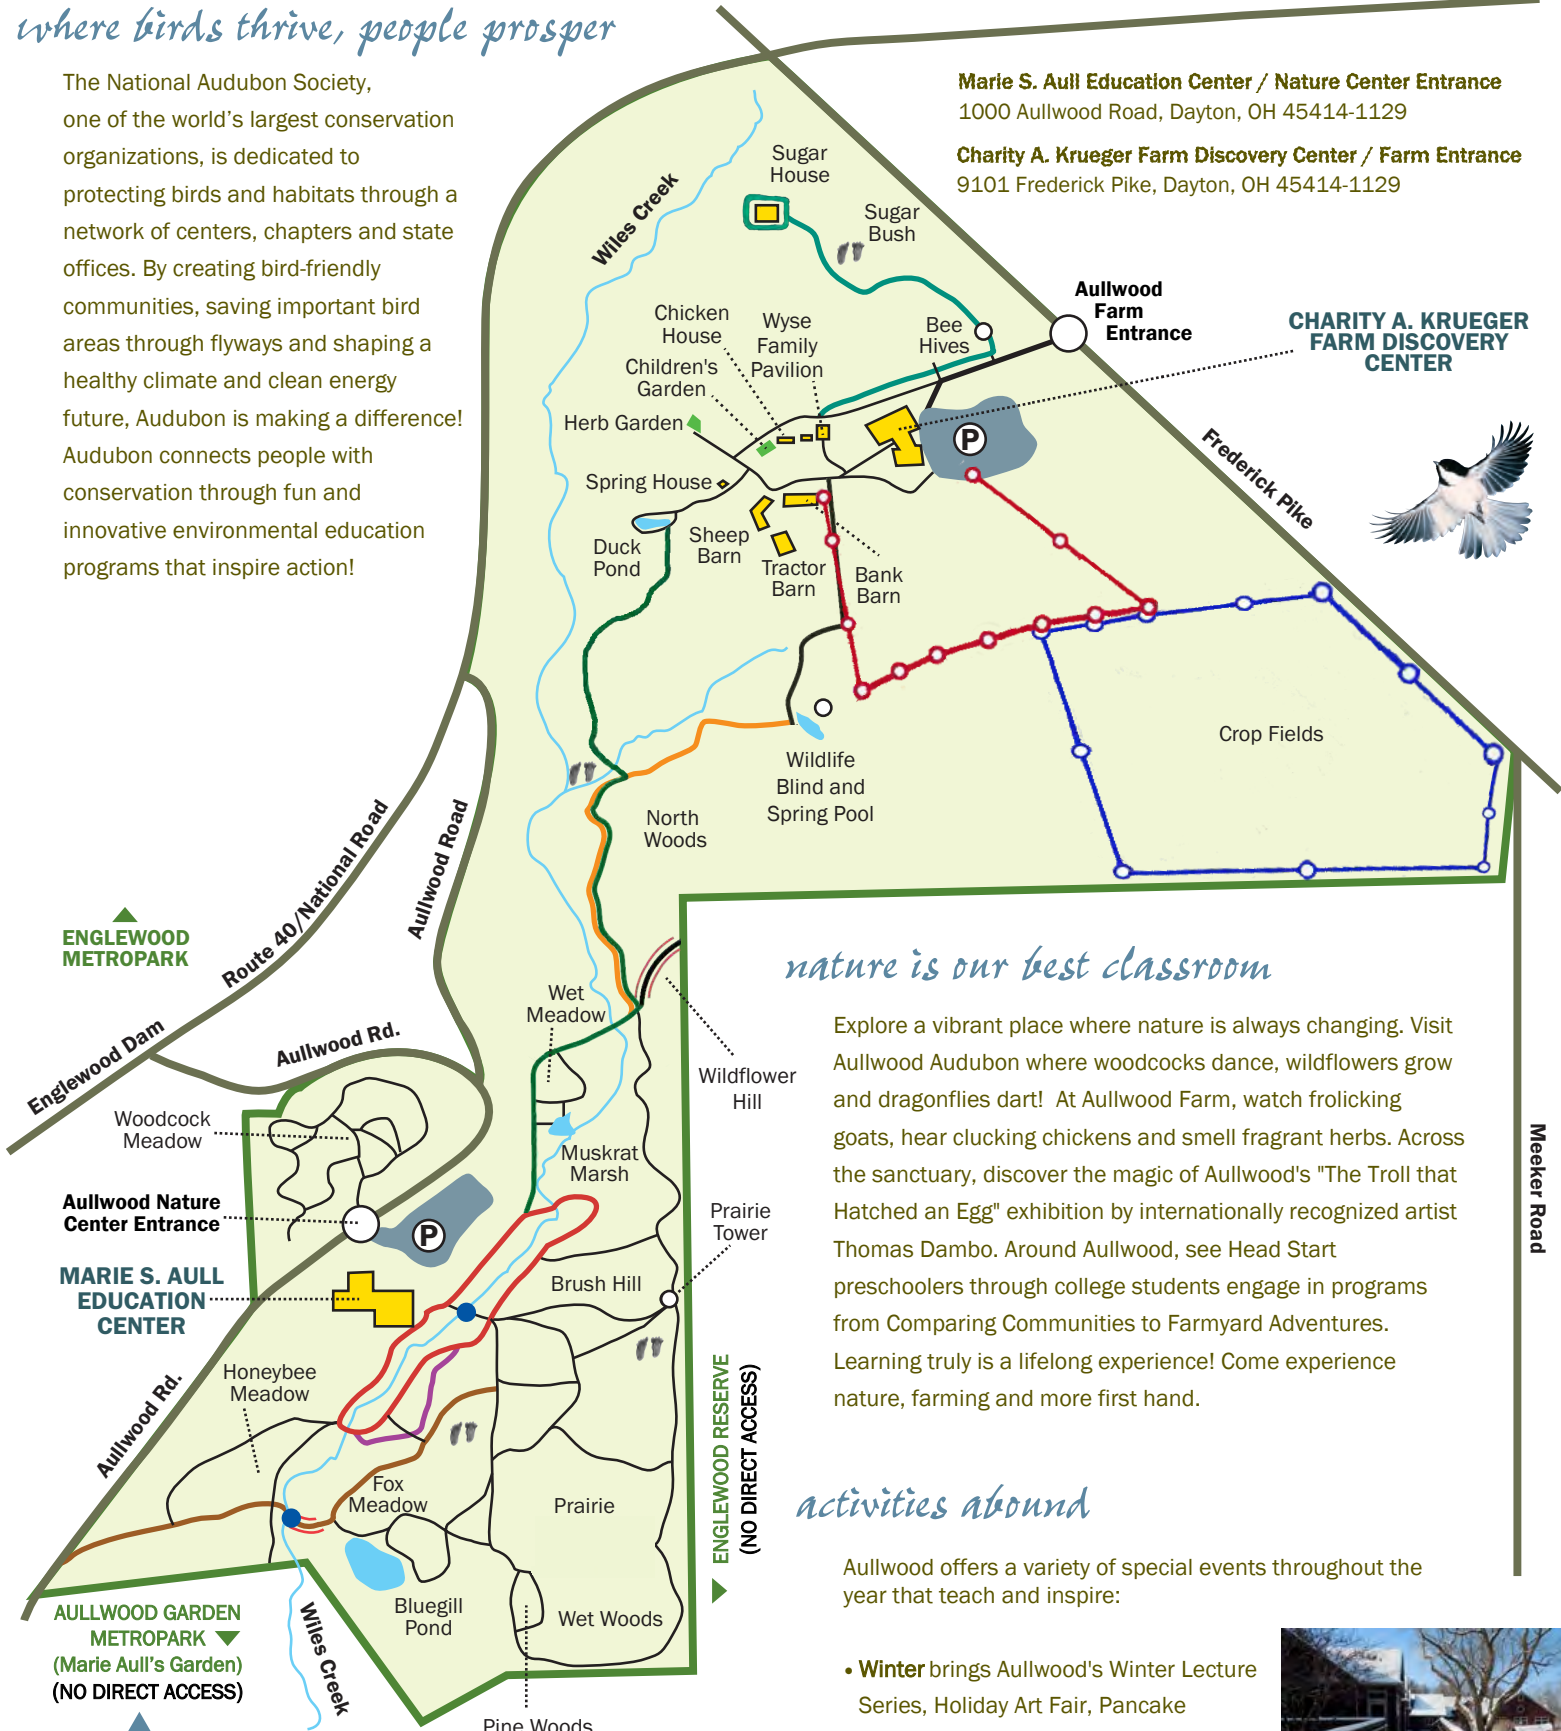

where birds thrive, people prosper

The National Audubon Society, one of the world's largest conservation organizations, is dedicated to protecting birds and habitats through a network of centers, chapters and state offices. By creating bird-friendly communities, saving important bird areas through flyways and shaping a healthy climate and clean energy future, Audubon is making a difference! Audubon connects people with conservation through fun and innovative environmental education programs that inspire action!

Dayton International Airport
Paul E. Knoop Jr. Prairie

Route 40

Marie S. Aull Education Center / Nature Center Entrance
1000 Aullwood Road, Dayton, OH 45414-1129

Charity A. Krueger Farm Discovery Center / Farm Entrance
9101 Frederick Pike, Dayton, OH 45414-1129

CHARITY A. KRUEGER
FARM DISCOVERY CENTER

nature is our best classroom

Explore a vibrant place where nature is always changing. Visit Aullwood Audubon where woodcocks dance, wildflowers grow and dragonflies dart! At Aullwood Farm, watch frolicking goats, hear clucking chickens and smell fragrant herbs. Across the sanctuary, discover the magic of Aullwood's "The Troll that Hatched an Egg" exhibition by internationally recognized artist Thomas Dambo. Around Aullwood, see Head Start preschoolers through college students engage in programs from Comparing Communities to Farmyard Adventures. Learning truly is a lifelong experience! Come experience nature, farming and more first hand.

activities abound

Aullwood offers a variety of special events throughout the year that teach and inspire:

- Winter brings Aullwood's Winter Lecture Series, Holiday Art Fair, Pancake Brunch and more.
- Spring is the time for exciting events like the Aullwood Native Plant Sale, Birdathon and Farm Babies Fest.
- Summer brings the Faerie Houses of Aullwood, butterfly surveys, summer programs for children and more.
- Fall activities include the Aullwood Fall Fest, Friends of Aullwood Birdseed Sale and traditional candle dipping.

- Troll Installation
- Warbler Way (0.55 miles) Sugarbush Trail (0.26 miles)
- Birds, Flight and the Wrights Trail (0.42 miles, paved)
- Geology Trail (0.32 miles)
- Shawnee Trail (0.27 miles)
- Wildflower Trail (0.10 miles)
- Bunting Boulevard (0.4 miles)
- Bobwhite Trail (0.66 miles)
- Trail Steps
- Rock or Log Crossing
- Parking

